Acknowledgement

The author thankfully acknowledges the valuable contributions of Dr. A V Srinivasan and Mr. U V Sitapati Rao and other colleagues, consultants, trainers and teachers of Shingo Institute and K S Madhavan & Associates in the preparation and editing of this book. In particular, he would like to acknowledge the support provided by Ms. K G Parvathy, Secretary in checking the drafts and ensuring that the book is eminently readable acknowledges the work of Mr. Raju Hinge in printing.

The knowledge gained in our own workshops and seminars, and most importantly knowledge received through books by several eminent management experts whom I hold as my gurus, particularly Dr. Edward de Bono and many Japanese, like Shigeo Shingo, Taiichi Ohno, Kaoru Ishikawa and many others, from whom I have learnt a lot both directly and indirectly.

Last but not the least, the organisations where I have worked, like ABB, TVS Group, S&S Power, GEC-Alsthom (now Areva) and Tecumseh Products Ltd., as well as our client organisations provided the platform for relearning and reinforcing my knowledge. I have refrained from naming the client organisations, as they are many and I may be failing if I leave out any one.
